Combined Expertise for Founders

Berlin is the startup metropolis of Europe. The capital attracts creative minds and entrepreneurs from all over the world. The added value of the entire city benefits from the startup culture: an increasing number of companies establish accelerators, incubators and coworking spaces to work together with the dynamic and innovative startups. The Startup Unit, which is based in the premises of Berlin Partner for Business and Technology, combines the expertise of the state of Berlin and partners from business and science.

Whether it is networking, financing, spin-off support or consulting on recruitment – Berlin already provides numerous services for startups. The Startup Unit helps making them more transparent as well as developing and supplementing them. The knowledge of Berlin's institutions and founders are brought together.
